This invitation looks so beautiful and so intricate it's almost embarrassing how easy it is!!

1. Print your invitation information onto the textured side of the 141mm Silkweave Ivory Cardstock (or a suitable alternative). The typesetting can be simple and you can add additional elements if you wish.
2. Get your 'Belle Fleur Wallet' (the pearls are already attached...yes really!) and go "gosh that's beautiful!" Put to one side.
3. Tie a bow with your 15mm ribbon (you'll need about 25-30 cm per bow but ideally work from the reel rather than cutting strips as you'll waste less ribbon) and trim ends at an angle (if you find bows hard just ask as there's a recipe for everything!) You might like to heat seal the ends of the ribbon; carefully hold the fabric near to a naked flame e.g. a tea light (but not touching) for a few seconds. the ribbon should not discolour (practice this a bit first with some ribbon scraps!)
4. Attach your bow with a little super glue gel (gel rather than liquid) and let it dry.
5. Attach your embellishment with either your gem-tac (be patient while it dries) or a hot glue gun (instant sticking satisfaction!) and relax!
6. Slide in your invitation insert and pretend you're exhausted.....job done!
